

The FHS governance model is a traditional administrative board. The Board is elected for a two year term by the voting members of the Society.

The Board consists of the President, Vice President, Secretary, Treasurer and 5 Directors. The President, Vice President, Secretary and Treasurer are also the Executive Committee.

The Board is the body responsible for the Society's highest level of decision-making and legal authority. The Board is accountable for, and has authority to manage the affairs of the Society.

The Executive Committee carries out the roles, responsibilities and functions of an executive director. The Executive Committee is accountable to the board as a whole.

The Board is accountable to the Society and is responsible to ensure that the mandate of the Society, based on the constitution and by-laws is being followed and preserved for the betterment of the community as a whole

The Board is responsible for

- determining what the Society needs to secure, preserve and make available area artifacts and archival materials to the public and to address how they will fulfill it.
- setting the rate at which the Society takes on activities, programs and services to fulfill its purpose.
- making sure that there are enough financial and human resources in place to guarantee the existence of the Society.

Each member elected to the Board of the Falkland Historical Society has a fiduciary responsibility and must commit to fulfil their duties and responsibilities to the best of their abilities, in full compliance with applicable legislation, regulations, by-laws and board policy and procedures manual.

Board members must agree to the Code of Conduct adopted by the Society.
